

Kentucky International Convention Center General Manager:

The new General Manager of Kentucky International Convention Center brings over a decade of venue management experience to Louisville's convention scene. Stacey Church is a native of Elkhart, IN, and holds an accounting degree from the University of Kentucky.

She began her career with Spectra Venue Management as Director of Finance in South Bend, IN at the Century Center, moving to the MassMutual Center in Springfield, MA, serving both facilities as Assistant General Manager and General Manger. Most recently, Church served as Assistant Director of the Fort Worth Convention Center and Will Rogers Memorial Center in Fort Worth, TX.

Church is a graduate of International Association of Venue Manager's Venue Management School at Oglebay and is currently working toward earning her Certified Facilities Executive (CFE) designation. Prior to her career in venue management, Stacey worked in the nonprofit sector.